The Estelle Brisard Memorial Prize for Educational Research 2016

This prize is awarded to the best educational research paper written by an early career researcher, based in Scotland.

Since 2007, the prize has been awarded on an annual basis in order to remember and honour Dr. Estelle Brisard's significant and outstanding contribution to educational research. The prize recipient must be an early career researcher (postgraduate student, educational practitioner, or lecturer/tutor working in Higher or further Education in Scotland). The prize is awarded on the basis of the display of excellence and promise in their research paper.

The award consists of:

- A certificate and cash prize of £250
- Formal presentation of award at the 2016 SERA conference, University of Dundee (24th November 2016)
- The winner will also be encouraged to submit their paper for consideration by the Scottish Educational Review (SER)

Criteria for submission of papers include:

- 3000 words only
- Must not be published elsewhere
- Sole authorship

Submissions should be sent to anna.beck@strath.ac.uk by Monday 5th September 2016
