

SERA Ethics in Education Network

MESSY, HUMAN, ETHICAL: NAVIGATING DILEMMAS IN EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH

At this session, Nova & Gillian will discuss their research areas that demand ongoing ethical attentiveness, sensitivity, and reflexive decision-making. Working at different stages of their doctoral journeys, they will use this session to share insights from their research to date, including moments of uncertainty, tension, and ethical negotiation. Participants will be invited to grapple with a series of ethical provocations emerging from their studies and to reflect critically on their own practice, assumptions, and responsibilities within complex educational contexts.

Speakers

GILLIAN FRANCIS-MCNEIL

Teaching Fellow in Educational Leadership & EdD Research Student

Gillian's research explores the role of the school in supporting children who have experienced domestic abuse; with a particular interest in what children themselves have to say about the support they need from their schools.

NOVA LAUDER-SCOTT

Teaching Fellow in Educational Leadership & EdD Research Student

Nova's research is interested in the stories of head teachers about teachers who are adept at supporting children who display distressed behaviour.
